It will be necessary for you to prepare a HUD-1 manually, using Only a calculator for your computations. It is recommended that you practice this if you have not done it recently (or ever) as it is a critical element to passing this test.

On Test Day -

BRING - lined paper (letter or legal-size tablet is recommended); #2 pencils; calculator (battery or solar is recommended)

DO NOT bring - study materials, computers, word processors, etc as you will not be able to bring them into the test location.

The outline above is only an overview of some of the items which will be covered by the CLC Examination.

Prepared By: The Governing Council of the Certified Land Title Institute of the Florida Land Title Association, Inc.

NOTE: In light of the fact that TRID is new and its likely to go through more changes before the dust settles, the CLT Council expressly agreed to exclude TRID related questions and TRID-type closing packages in this year's tests.
